The President’s Personnel Recommendations

VIII-A-2

Approve Board of Regents Policy RP-4.3.4 concerning authority to appoint Endowed Chairs and Named Professorships

RP-4.3.4 Approval of Appointments to Endowed Chairs and Named Professorships

The University of Nebraska is fortunate to have the resources and private funding necessary to establish and designate a substantial number of Endowed Chairs and Named Professorships. The purposes underlying these Chairs and Professorships are to advance the University’s academic goals and objectives; to recognize and support faculty members of exceptional academic distinction; and to assist the University in its efforts to attract and retain outstanding scholars and leaders.

Except when a donor agreement otherwise specifies, the appointment of Endowed Chairs, Named Professorships, and similarly named appointments is governed by processes established by the relevant campus and approved by its Chancellor. In those instances when donor agreements supporting the appointments provide that the selection of the recipient is subject to the approval of the Board of Regents, the Board of Regents hereby delegates to the President the authority to approve these Chairs and Professorships and similarly named appointments, on behalf of the Board of Regents.

The University shall provide timely written notice of such appointments to the University of Nebraska Foundation for those Chairs and Professorships funded through the Foundation.

Appointments to Endowed Chairs and Named Professorships shall be included in the quarterly personnel report provided to the Board of Regents.

VIII-A-3

Approve Changes to Board of Regents Policy RP-4.2.6 concerning Emeritus Status

RP-4.2.6 Emeritus Status

Emeritus Status is the rank customarily awarded by the President or Chancellor of each campus given by the Board of Regents to a faculty member an employee at the time of his or her retirement. Emeritus status is given in recognition of substantial service rendered to the University in the field of teaching, research, or service and to facilitate retired faculty to continue their research and to provide advice and the benefits of their expertise to colleagues and students of administration in these fields. Emeritus status is also given to senior administrators including, but not limited to,
Chancellors, Vice Presidents, Vice Chancellors, Deans, and other administrators whose work with academic programs has contributed to the educational work of the University, a retired librarian, registrar, comptroller, administrative dean, director, or head of other similar division or subdivision whose work impinges directly upon the educational program.

The Board of Regents must approve emeritus status for a retiring president.

Designations of emeritus status are reported to the Board of Regents in the regularly scheduled personnel reports.

While length of service is not necessarily material, employment for at least ten years is to be presumed, although exceptions to this term may be made by the President or Chancellor awarding the emeritus rank. Board of Regents.

1. General Principles

While it is believed that, because of past service, there are substantial perquisites and privileges which should accrue to persons who have retired from active service to the University because of having reached retirement age or because of illness, emeritus status normally signifies non-activity in connection with all assigned duties. It is not intended, however, that Retirement should not sever all appropriate connection between the person and the University, and emeritus members are. In fact, a retired staff member is encouraged to maintain their his or her associations and to continue study, and scholarly investigation, and professional advising of students. to such a degree as his or her health and strength may permit.

The practical development of this program of continuation is indicated in essence in the following paragraphs.

2. Special Privileges

a. Office space or desk room, while ordinarily not assigned to emeritus faculty a retired staff member, may be so assigned by the dean or director of the division concerned if, in his or her judgment, such location is especially desirable in a given instance and it is recommended by the staff of the department.

b. Similarly, research facilities, while not ordinarily available to emeritus faculty a retired employee, may be granted, where practicable, by the dean or director, if the proposed work is deemed, by the dean or director, to be a considerable contribution to the scholarly life of the University and it is recommended by the staff of the department. When an emeritus member a retired person is pursuing such study, he or she has the same rights as active members of the faculty in applying for publication privileges or for grants-in-aid for research.

c. Unless renewed, the assignments end with the University fiscal year.

Any item not covered in this policy shall be determined by the chief executive officer of the college or division concerned in conformity with the implications of similar relationships herein included, or referred to the Chancellor for ruling.

3. Perquisites

Official rosters of the University shall carry the names of living persons officially awarded emeritus status. retired from active duty.

a. On all formal occasions, in all social affairs, in all public meetings, and as University representatives, emeritus members retired persons are recognized on the same basis as active staff members. They do not attend departmental or faculty meetings except upon invitation by the presiding officer thereof, and then without vote. Emeritus faculty may also attend Attendance at senate meetings (without vote but with privileges of the floor) is encouraged.

b. Official notices and communications will be accommodated to these ends, using, where necessary, the United States mail.
c. When emeritus members, retired employees are called upon to act as references for former students, to furnish information to earlier associates, or to perform any other similar University service stemming from a responsibility which continues beyond their retirement, it is expected that they will use official stationery and such other departmental office privileges as they might customarily use.

d. Library and e-mail privileges shall continue, fully, subject to the same limitations as are necessary for active staff members.

e. Student Union, cultural and athletic events, etc. are available to emeritus members pursuant to campus policies, upon to retired persons on the same basis as to other faculty members

f. Emeritus faculty Retired persons may submit manuscripts or studies for publication, subject to acceptance by publishing boards.
