University of Nebraska President Hank Bounds has appointed a 25-member advisory committee to assist him in the search for the next chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The committee, which will work with professional search firm Isaacson, Miller to identify, recruit and screen potential candidates, includes representatives of the faculty, staff, administration, student body, private sector and agricultural community—all key constituencies with whom the UNL chancellor regularly interacts.

The committee will be chaired by Susan M. Sheridan, Ph.D., George Holmes University Professor of Educational Psychology and founding director of the Nebraska Center for Research on Children, Youth, Families and Schools and the National Center for Research on Rural Education.

Other committee members are:
